There is nothing quite like the warmth and ambience of a fireplace. It becomes a natural focal point and the heart of the home. Unlike its traditional wood burning counterparts, the modern radiant gas fireplace combines efficiency and aesthetics, making the fireplace at home in any room, from living rooms to luxurious master bedrooms. With nearly two decades of experience in providing Saskatchewan with heating and ventilation systems, Bridlewood Home Products Ltd. is the go-to business to find fireplace experts.

Relocating to a new showroom in February, Bridlewood will have the space to display more products, including fireplaces, outdoor heaters for patios and radiant garage heaters. The new space will be a must see for clients, new and old. "We pride ourselves on being able to provide the best products and service to our clients," says John Christenson, owner. "Our new location will be the perfect space to help customers, educating them so they can make the right choices for their home, sense of style and lifestyle."

As the foremost dealer of Valor Radiant Gas Fireplaces, Bridlewood provides the province with 125 years of Valor engineering and expertise in each product. These Canadian produced gas fireplaces are so effective they can serve as the sole heating source in cabins and cottages, avoiding unsightly ductwork and costly renovations. In addition, they are an excellent source of backup heat for your home. Radiant gas fireplaces provide precise control, changing the temperature as little as a degree or two, with or without power.

Thanks to their efficient design, Valor gas fireplaces are the perfect solution for zone heating high traffic areas in a home, maintaining a comfortable heat while reducing costs.

Another Canadian product featured in the new showroom will be the Superior Radiant Garage Heater. The system is ceiling mounted to direct radiant heat downward to the floor, heating it and the rest of the room to provide a comfortable temperature. These radiant systems reduce the cost of operation and repairs.

“We are very pleased with the Valor radiant gas fireplace we purchased at Bridlewood. It is beautiful, runs well and has really made a great difference in the warmth of our house. We love getting up in the morning, turning it on and enjoying its warmth from fall to spring,” says client, Patrick Lapointe.

With a large supply of items in stock, Bridlewood can swiftly install and repair systems for their clients and are only just a phone call away.

“I was very impressed with the young man who came out to do our estimate. He was friendly, knowledgeable and professional. He walked me through what I could expect and even invited me to come down to the showroom to make sure I would be happy with what my radiant product would look like and what radiant heat would feel like. Now I can sit back and enjoy,” says client, Debra Wright.

With a crew dedicated to making homeowners’ fireplace and heating dreams come true, there is no time like the present to call Bridlewood for the fireplace that combines artistry, efficiency and precision into one unique and stylish package. ■
